AT PEAK OF POWER GERMANY HELD THOUSANDS OF MILES OF TERRITORY

Nazi holdings in Europe have been chopped away to almost nothing since Germany reached the peak of her power in 1942. The map at top (black area) shows how Hitler's hordes sprawled over Europe and part of Africa at that time. Allied victories have succeeded in driving back the German armies until little remains of the once-mighty Nazi empire. Black area on bottom map shows what is left.

Nazi-Fascist Reign Of Terror And Conquest Is Ending In Disaster

By KINGSBURY SMITH

PARIS, May 1.—The curtain was going down today on the last act of Europe's greatest drama.

With Benito Mussolini dead, Adolf Hitler reported to be dead or dying and Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler seeking peace, the Nazi-Fascist reign of terror and conquest is ending in ignominious disaster.

There is a strong feeling in Paris that it is all over now and only a matter of days—perhaps hours—before an Allied victory will be proclaimed officially.

See Justice In Mussolini's Fate

The French feel there is a sense of supreme justice in the manner in which Mussolini met his end at the hands of Italian patriots. They feel it is particularly fitting that (Continued on Page Two)

With the arrival of May day today, some idea is gained about conditions in this unseasonable spring. Many flowers which usually are about starting to bloom in early May have already bloomed and are in decline.

Third And Seventh U. S. Armies Drive Deep Into Austria

Threaten To Envelope Heart Of Nazis' Southern National Redoubt

SMASH TOWARD BRENNER PASS

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—Troops of the United States Third and Seventh armies closed in relentlessly on Germany's last Bavarian cores of resistance today.

With Munich cleared by the American Seventh Army except for isolated snipers' nests, Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., led fast armored units over the Isar river toward Berchtesgaden, now little more than 60 miles away.

PARIS, May 1.—Two powerful American armies, the U. S. Third and the U. S. Seventh, hammered deep into Austria today in drives which threatened to envelop the heart of the Nazis' southern national redoubt.

The Seventh Army, commanded by Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, smashed to within 12 miles or less of Innsbruck, northern entrance to the Brenner Pass into Italy. Advanced units of the Seventh were within little more than 30 miles of the Brenner Pass itself.

Gen. Patch's troops formed the southern prong of a pincer which may be shopped closed around Salzburg and Berchtesgaden, Hitler's Bavarian mountain fastness.

Near Linkup With Russians
Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army forces to the northeast spearheaded through the Danube valley to within 27 miles of Linz, where the Third is expected to effect a linkup with Soviet forces driving up from Vienna.

The Third poured more and more forces across the Austrian border and sent two armored divisions and two infantry divisions striking southeast across the Isar river.

Deny Germans Are Evacuating Denmark

Swedish Radio Says Military And Political Status Of Denmark Unchanged

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—The Swedish radio, quoting Danish sources, denied today that German forces have started the evacuation of Denmark. The Swedish announcer said that it had been confirmed by careful inquiry that the military and political status of Denmark at the moment is unchanged.

The denial came on the heels of reports that the Germans had begun marching out of Copenhagen as a prelude to complete evacuation.

The London Evening Standard quoted free Danish sources in Stockholm which said that Count Folke Bernadotte's Swedish commission had been negotiating with Dr. Werner Best, the Nazi envoy, for the dismantling and withdrawal of all German troops in Denmark.

However well informed Danish sources were said by the Swedish radio to have described the Bernadotte-Best meetings as a continuation of Heinrich Himmler's negotiation over terms of surrender to the Allies.

ROME, May 1.—(INS)—Rome was disturbed today over the possibility of unpleasant differences between Italy and Yugoslavia concerning the Port of Trieste.

One U. S. Force Pushes Toward Brenner Pass From Captured Verona

ALLIED AIRMEN SMASH AT NAZIS

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
U. S. Staff Correspondent

ROME, May 1.—American fifth army troops slashed through shattered German defenses in northern Italy in three directions today while the British eighth army crossed the Piave river and advanced rapidly to the north.

The Nazis battled desperately to regroup their demoralized forces for an orderly retreat into the Alps but were harassed from the ground and air on all fronts.

Toward Brenner Pass
Americans pushing north from Verona toward the Brenner Pass encountered savage opposition from Nazi troops seeking to keep their dividing escape highways cleared.

Despite sharp small arms and artillery fire the U. S. 10th division of mountain troops continued their advance toward Trento and the Brenner line and captured the towns of Riva, Torbole and Nago.

At the northern end of Lake Garda Nazi rear guards continued to give the advancing Americans trouble while other fifth army forces in the northwest consolidated their positions in the area of captured Turin, less than 30 miles from the French border.

25 Nazi Divisions Battered
At least 25 German divisions were revealed by Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the allied 15th army group, to have been so battered they can no longer offer effective resistance.

Less than 30 miles separated British and Yugoslav troops while the Americans advancing beyond Verona were moving rapidly toward an eventual junction with the U. S. seventh army cutting through Austria 12 miles from Innsbruck.

Allied airmen also attacked shipping in the northern Adriatic and strafed Nazi motor transport columns in the Goizia area.

Demands U. S. Retain Bases In Pacific Area

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Sen. Walsh (D-Mass., chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs committee) called today for American retention of "every essential base in the Pacific."

This embraces everything essential to our security," Walsh said. "It includes islands won from the Japanese and bases on possessions of our Allies."

Walsh's declaration came as a naval affairs subcommittee readied itself to fly to the United Nations conference at San Francisco tomorrow to inform delegates that the entire Naval Affairs committee takes this attitude.

Refuse Trusteeship

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Byrd (D-Va.), plans to urge the American delegation to refuse to enter into any international trusteeship for the mandated islands taken from the Japanese.

Subcommittee members, it was learned, will take the position that the United States must protect itself against a possible future breakdown of the proposed world security organization. They will also tell delegates that America must have permanent bases in the Atlantic.

Representatives of Congress also will take a "look-in" at the conference to determine how much commitments will cost the taxpayers of the United States in dollars and cents.

By J. C. OESTREICHER

A carefully-worded hint that the war in Europe may come to an end before this week is finished electrified the house of commons today for it came from the most cautious of all world spokesmen—Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Addressing Parliament at a moment when Heinrich Himmler again was reported to have furnished a satisfactory answer to the Allied demand for Germany's unconditional surrender, Churchill said:

"If information of importance reaches the government, during sittings of the House this week, as it might do, I will make a brief announcement, but only if the information is of exceptional importance."

Will Announce Plans
Churchill then went on to announce that the home office tonight will issue a circular describing official measures to be taken when the time comes for V-E day celebrations.

The prime minister also promised the House that he will make immediate announcement when the war is over without waiting for full completion of all Allied occupational measures.

But if information of importance reaches the government during sittings of the house this week, as it might do, I will make a brief announcement.

Russians Hope To Complete Capture Of Berlin Today

Nazi Dead Reported Piled Up Around Approaches To German-Held Area

CENTER OF CITY FALLING RAPIDLY

By NATALIA RENE
U. S. Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, May 1.—Soviet troops, leaping across roofs and plunging through cellars, stormed the buildings of the Wilhelmstrasse and along the Unter De Linden today in an effort to complete capture of Berlin as a May Day present for Marshal Joseph Stalin.

Nazi dead piled up around the approaches to the German-held districts as the capital went down in a last orgy of destruction.

Front dispatches said the center of the city was falling rapidly into Russian hands and that the core of Nazi resistance had shifted to the northeastern districts north of the river Spree.

Stalin Reports Huge Nazi Losses

Says Germans Lose More Than 1,800,000 During Past Three Or Four Months

MOSCOW, May 1.—(INS)—Soviet armies have inflicted losses of more than 1,800,000 officers and men on the Nazis in the past three to four months, Marshal Joseph Stalin said today in a May Day order of the day to the Russian armed forces and civilians.

The days of Hitlerite Germany are numbered, Stalin said in announcing German losses more than 1,000,000 of whom were killed in battle.

In addition to enormous losses of men, he cited said that during the same period the Red army had captured or destroyed some 6,000 enemy tanks, 12,000 tanks and self-propelled guns and more than 23,000 field guns.

Stalin's message flatly denied any mention by the United Nations to destroy the German people. He branded such stories as "mendacious propaganda" by Hitlerites, saying that only German Fascism and militarism would be destroyed and war criminals would be punished.

The marshal added, however, that German people will be compelled to make good the losses they have inflicted upon other nations.

May Proclaim V-E Day After Fall Of Berlin

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Spurred by rapidly increasing signs of the complete disintegration of German forces, Washington observers are convinced today that V-E day will be proclaimed soon after the fall of Berlin.

Formal announcement of Berlin's fall is expected to come from Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin to mark the celebration of May Day, outstanding Red holiday which is always the occasion of brilliant ceremonies.

It has already been made clear that Berlin has been reduced to a point beyond military significance. All that remains is a mop-up operation and a search in the ruins to determine whether Adolf Hitler is actually there.

Forces which struck into Berlin have already spent spearheads out to cut forces north and northeast of the city into bits, indicating that the capital is no longer an obstacle to their advance.

It is felt that, once Berlin's fall is announced, no major news development short of the elimination of Nazi leaders or the outbreak of civil war on a wide scale will intervene before V-E Day.

Indirect Hint Given Germans On Peace Effort

Hamburg Radio Indicates Some Big News May Be Expected Soon, Is Report

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—The first indirect hint to the German public that the current negotiations might be going on and that big news might be expected soon was given by the Hamburg radio today. "The Allies, in their news bulletins and political commentaries are predicting great developments in the European war for today," Doctor Edwards, a German political commentator said.

"But whatever the Allies may tell their people, it will be only an indirect hint, and not a final decision," Edwards added.

"Hamburg, midway news broadcast, also opened with a remarkably cheerful tone—not many hours after a commentator over the same station had declared that the war might be over in a few hours."

"There is only one thing we Germans can do at this moment—cling to our faith in Germany," the announcer said.

"For every one of us, there must be a sign of the Allies. This must be the sign."

"The most superior and merciless enemy will remain powerless against us."

Reduction of Japanese industrial facilities on Formosa continued, with U. S. heavy and medium bombers battering Toshiro and Koshun along with other targets on the west coast of the fortress island. Warehouses, fuel storage installations and other buildings were destroyed or set ablaze. Among the latter was an alcohol plant left flaming.

Destruction of at least 23 Japanese vessels was announced in the communiqué.

SEE CAUTIOUS HINT OF POSSIBLE PEACE IN CHURCHILL SPEECH

Red Cross, which were said to have embraced meetings with high German officials at the Baltic port of Luebeck, the end of the war remained entirely unpredictable.

Militarily Germany Defeated

Militarily, Germany was defeated weeks ago, as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced flatly at the time.

But the long-range plans drafted years ago by the leaders of democracy make clear that a mere military defeat or even a military surrender may not be adequate. The Allied demand for unconditional surrender remains unchanged and unmodified.

In other words the Germans, or whoever may be qualified to speak for them, must accept every last stipulation laid down, without argument or equivocation.

Anything may happen at any moment. But well-qualified observers are inclined at this time to weigh the following factors:

Factors in Situation

1—There is not the slightest indication from any authoritative source that Heinrich Himmler is in any way, shape or manner acceptable to the Allies even if he came loaded down with olive branches.

2—As chief of the Nazi gестапо and later as German minister of the interior, Himmler was number 2 on the inter-Allied list of war criminals. He may, by a process of assassination or the natural and unmonitored death of Adolf Hitler, have elevated himself to the number 1 spot.

3—This war, unprecedented and unlike any other in history, may end on an appropriately still note. In other words, there is still a possibility there may never be a definite German surrender. None may be required or desired.

When Gen. Eisenhower announced that Germany's armies in western Europe had been beaten as an effective military force, the Russians had yet to start their major offensive which now has engulfed almost all of Berlin.

The Allied armies were still more or less stalemated in Italy.

The national Redoubt of the Bavarian and Austrian Alps was a potential fortress of indeterminate resistance.

Germany's open-hearted threat of a secret weapon which might change the entire course of the war could not wholly be disregarded.

All Removed

Now all these considerations have been to all intents and purposes removed. The war can end almost at the time is ripe, all he has to do is proclaim that organized fighting by the Germans in accordance with the international rules of warfare has come to an end.

In such a case, Germans still offering resistance would become guerrillas and outlaws, deprived of all protection as war prisoners and subject to ruthless extermination. It is extremely doubtful that more than a comparative handful of Nazis would continue to fight under these circumstances.

nouncement, but only if the information is of exceptional importance."

Churchill announced that the British home office tonight will issue a circular setting forth the arrangements already prepared for handling V-E day celebrations.

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—

A Swedish broadcast picked up by Reuters News agency said flatly today that Count Folke Bernadotte had brought a new surrender offer from Heinrich Himmler on his return to Stockholm from Copenhagen.

"which would occur if an announcement of decisive consequence justifying a celebration is made this week or at any time in the future."

The prime minister pledged that "should a major situation reach the government" he will announce its substance to Commons immediately.

Such an announcement, he said will not be withheld "until exact occupation of all particular zones achieved."

Speculate On Peace

One London newspaper meanwhile said there was every indication a peace decision already has been reached.

The London Evening News speculated that a final decision had been made and said it appeared that only the formalities of carrying out the agreement remained.

Gestapo Chief and Interior Minister Heinrich Himmler according to this newspaper, was believed to have accepted the unconditional surrender demand of the Big Three. It was acknowledged, however, that there was absolutely no confirmation as yet.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the Swedish Red Cross official who has been conferring with Himmler and other Germans, returned meanwhile to Sweden, arriving at Malmö after an air trip from Copenhagen.

In Denmark Count Bernadotte conferred with Dr. Werner Best, German envoy to the Danes, and two German military representatives, one of whom was identified as being SS Elite Guard Guenter Roehner.

The German answer given to Count Bernadotte was understood according to Stockholm advisers, to have been transmitted to the Allies by the Swedish foreign office.

The French press agency meanwhile transmitted to Paris a dispatch from San Francisco in which it was said that it had been learned officially that Russia had notified the United States and Britain that the Soviets are not prepared to treat with Himmler in negotiations for the surrender of Germany.

The French agency gave no further source of its information and the report was unconfirmed elsewhere.

Controversial Problems

Some of these judicial problems are highly controversial. Show-down battles are expected in the commissions, the steering committee and even on the floor of the conference itself. At the moment, the on controversies include:

A. The veto power proposed for the big five powers on the security council, along with small nations demands for more seats on that council.

B. Disposition of captured enemy territory, along with future control of old League of Nations mandated areas.

C. The method by which regional security groups such as the Pan-American group will be subordinated to the power of the new peace organization.

Some tremendously significant facts were paraded in the open before the 46 national delegations when the conference approved invitations to Argentina, White Russia and the Ukraine while indicating that Poland was not invited.

First, Pan-America looks to the United States for diplomatic leadership and no longer hesitates to follow American leadership.

Second, Russia already has organized a strong European bloc which follows its diplomatic leadership. This bloc includes Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. Russia and Greece leaning toward it.

The southernmost wing of the Seventh Army threatened Innsbruck as Gen. Patton's forces in the north-east took over Munich, birthplace of the national socialist movement.

Moving down from the north units of the 103rd Infantry Division reached Mutewald, 12 miles north-west of Innsbruck which is 22 miles from the Brenner Pass.

The French First Army operating on the right flank of the Seventh occupied Friedrichshafen, former Zeppelin base. Friedrichshafen was occupied after a push by the French along the northern bank of Lake Constance.

In the north Britain's Second Army increased the threat to the great port of Hamburg, expanding its bridgehead across the Elbe river southeast of Hamburg to 12 miles in width and 10 miles in depth.

Britons Drive Ahead

Driving north of Lauenburg where the crossing was made the Britons captured the village of Schwarzenbek and reached the outskirts of Shams, 17 miles east of Hamburg.

To the west of the great port other Allied forces closed up along the south side of the river.

Units of the U. S. 82nd Airborne Division which were disclosed to be operating under British command crossed the Elbe 10 miles east of Lauenburg and extended their bridgehead rapidly.

With the U. S. Ninth Army now linked up with the Russians, at Apollonoff, the Allied wedge between the north and south Germanys was extended to a width of at least 50 miles.

The British northern drive in conjunction with the Canadian First Army not only threatened Hamburg but also Bremerhaven, Wilhelmshaven and Emden. Bremerhaven, 23 miles from Bremen, was captured and Bremerhaven isolated on the west and south.

Canadian forces occupied Leer below Emden.

SUGAR RATIONS BEING REDUCED

ration announced, that sugar stamp No. 36 good for five pounds, and becoming valid today, must last four months instead of three.

Home canning ration was cut to 70 percent of last year's allowance, and reductions were made in sugar allowances for hotels, restaurants, institutions, bakeries and confectioneries.

Crowley assured Americans that adequate diet was assured. But he pointed to the economic and political repercussions which would develop in an undernourished Europe, and urged U. S. to subordinate its demands to world needs.

Needs Of Liberated Areas

Crowley outlined the principal food needs in liberated areas. These include fats and oils, wheat, flour, and moderate quantities of sugar, peas, beans and dairy products.

1. World sugar stocks in 1943 total, thirteen million tons, compared with the 1944 consumption rate, requiring thirteen million tons, and a half million tons in 1945.

2. World supplies of fats and oils excluding butter are 8 million tons, compared with 1944 requirements totaling 10 million tons. United States consumption in 1944 was 3 million tons, compared with 4.2 in 1944.

3. Free world meat supplies in 1945 will be about 45 million and a half million pounds, or three billion pounds under 1944, due to drought in Australia and South America, and a smaller prospective slaughter of hogs in the United States and Canada.

4. The United States has the number one export position in wheat, fourth in barley, and fifth in corn. These crops must be shipped. Cattle and pigs should be shipped to Europe.

4. World wheat supplies exceed all requirements by more than 200 million bushels. Other commodities, are ships, railroad cars, trucks and barge facilities, and moderate European needs.

NAZI FASCIST REIGN ENDING IN DISASTER

he should have met his fate in the very city where he launched the Fascist movement, which brought Italy to ruin.

Likewise the French disaster is almost supernatural destiny. Behind the course of events that brought him to his end, there is a hint of the divine, which is another sign of the end of the Nazi movement for world conquest.

Some Suffering Averted

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

History Repeats In False Peace Report

WASHINGTON, May 1.—History has a fantastic way of repeating the same old patterns, as the false armistice of Saturday night proved once again.

It's hard to understand how a reputable news agency could go so far on the basis of so dubious a rumor. The United Press is now even up with the Associated Press on the score of false armistices.

There are still some mysteries that need explanation. Why, for example, did the White House contribute to the general hysteria by telling the broadcast companies to stand by for a broadcast by the president of a proclamation? Not mind you an announcement, but a proclamation.

Situation Reviewed

What I have been able to find out adds up as follows: For many weeks the White House has been prepared for the possibility of a German surrender. No one in authority has really expected a surrender. Who could surrender for the German people has been a question that no one could answer with any consistency.

But all it was believed best to be in readiness. A surrender offer from one of three or four high Nazis in the event of Hitler's death or from the Wehrmacht by way of Von Rundstedt or Kesselring might make the cleanup job in Germany easier. It might be the signal for the thousands of soldiers in holdout pockets to give up.

That general situation was unchanged Saturday night. The flood of rumors did however raise hopes of a kind of surrender might be very near.

In the mass of rumors that flooded the world on Saturday night, it appears to have been one truth. British officials at San Francisco verified the report that Heinrich Himmler had made an offer of surrender to Britain and America.

Ignored Russia

The offer ignored Russia, one of the three principal Allies. It could well have been a final attempt at separating the partners that have fought this war together—exactly the same trick Nazi propagandists have been trying to pull off since the beginning of the war. Why fail for that old one at this late date?

Part of Himmler's offer was to deliver Hitler, dead, to the Allies in token of surrender. But that is an old trick too. Hitler has at least two doubles. What possible trick could be put in a tricked-up corpse for sabotage? Himmler!

It was Gen. Eisenhower's own voice that put an end to the rumor drive. The supreme commander in Europe knows exactly how much a German "surrender" will mean. He knows how important it is to keep on to the final goal, which is the complete destruction of German military power and the restoration of order in shattered Europe.

No Time For Celebrating

Anything that detracts from that ultimate goal detracts from the winning of the war and a false armistice, with its attendant hollabala, comes under that heading. This is not the moment for ticker tape and tin horns. Let's hold that for the day when millions of our young men come marching down the streets again.

In the unhappy denouncement at San Francisco after President Truman, on the advice of Eisenhower, repudiated the surrender report, all that Senator Connally had to stand on was the reported Himmler surrender which had set the whole conference to buzzing. Apparently he had no more information than any one of several thousand men and women who had caught at the stray of rumor.

At that point, of course, the senator stood on a spot. The story the AP sent out of Connally's meeting with the three news agency representatives who had been covering the surrender rumor was one of the funniest in a long time. It sounded like a neighborhood quarrel. He said, and I said, and you said, and they said...

Reports were ever that Himmler, the false armistice of November 1918, touched off a much more frantic celebration. Then the whole nation, from Wall Street to Coronado, went crazy. Long afterward several cities tried to present their street cleaning bills for ticker tape and turn-up telephone books to the United Press.

The one was nipped in the bud and forgotten. The policy of the administration and of our military planners is against any premature celebration—any synthetic V-E Day—that will give people a false sense that it's all over and that we can relax. One false armistice to each war—that's the quota.

Health Talks

HEADACHE

Headache is usually an indication that there is something wrong somewhere. It is usually a red flag which means danger ahead.

It troublesome headache occurs a careful medical examination is needed to find the cause.

It is not a very good idea to take headache tablets. They may relieve pain but do not remove the cause of it.

There are so many different causes of headache that it is sometimes pretty hard to find which one is to blame.

Headache is a danger signal. It means a visit to the doctor. He will try to find out whether the trouble is in the eyes, the ears, the bones, the stomach, the heart, the arteries or the pocketbook.

EVENT OF THE WEEK

TWO DIFFERENT MOVING CONCERNS MOVED TWO DIFFERENT FAMILIES INTO THE SAME HOUSE

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7.41. Sun rises tomorrow 6.13.

"Hell" seems to be the only word that hits some conditions existing now.

The man who looks out for a rainy day generally makes many a sunny one for his heirs.

Rationing is one banned thing after another.

If you haven't got a good reason for doing something you have a good reason for letting it alone.

A man who had just purchased a parrot that refused to talk was determined to teach it at least one word.

Standing fairly close to the bird, he repeated for several minutes the words "Hello! Hello!"

At the end of the lesson, the parrot opened one eye and answered drowsily, "I'm a bird."

People who criticize readability books and magazines do not read them and the people who read them do not read the criticisms. So what good does it do?

It is imaginary hills that makes medical practice profitable.

Ignorance is the bliss that prevents so many of us from acquiring wisdom.

REASON ENOUGH
"It says here that primitive men never swore," said the critical wife meaningly.

"Huh!" growled her husband with no flat tire, wrong numbers, radio crooners, income taxes, ceiling prices, rationing, and black markets in their day what reason would they have had for using profanity?

Some people don't lie. They merely present the truth in such a way that nobody recognizes it.

Don't make the little word "I" your coat of arms.

To make more enemies, act as umpire between two friends.

You will never be big if you let your business go to your head.

You can always be critical, but only now and then can you be correct.

It seems a bit easier to find grounds for divorces than grounds for marriage.

Living above your income now is a sign that some of these days you will be compelled to live below it.

Some piano players practice not only too well but merely too much.

We are apt to distrust people who flatter us, and dislike those who don't.

Even DOUBT and CURIOSITY if rightly directed will lead to wisdom.

If you don't think you have a lot of conceit in your make-up, tell me if you don't always think your grief is a lot more poignant than the other fellows.

Overheard on the Bus: "The cat in our neighborhood don't seem to allow the midnight curfew to interfere with their nocturnal yawning."

An ounce of help is worth a pound of scoldings.

Another reason for juvenile delinquency is that a lot of oratory brats are just naturally tough.

It is not what you gain but what you retain that helps you to succeed.

"This is a good time to quit smoking." For that matter, it's a good time to get over the eating habit.

A mail order house offers a whole turkey, cooked and ready to serve for $21. For that money, in the backyard, you can fry a whole cow or a coon dog.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING SAFETY HABITS

A wise parent able to follow a plan carefully can easily train the toddler to stay out of the street, even though all his playmates run into it unrestrained.

As soon as your tot is big enough to play out of doors outside a small play pen, go with him to the front yard and take along one of his wheel toys and a few blocks he can carry.

If a car or truck is coming, hold him by the hand. If none is in sight, and he proceeds to step off the curb, don't pull him back or shout at him. Seize him right then and there and spank him soundly. Be sure to make it hurt. To make him into the habit of spanking him is too late to be very effective. The pain should follow the moment he is about to step down.

To make him stay indoors for a period as punishment is too slow for good results, though it might work if you were entirely consistent and cared to have the necessary training period last four or five times as long as necessary.

Consistent Punishment

Say No just once in a moderate tone as you seize and spank him. Then calmly tell to his attention his playthings, but do not touch or pity him right after he is spanked.

Unless a vehicle is in sight, let him choose whether to step off the curb again or not. Don't spank him or pull him back. The moment he is about to step down again, spank him as before or harder, but as certainly. Allow not a single exception.

Continue in this fashion while he is outside this time and every time thereafter until you are very sure he will avoid the street and curb on his own.

Matrines know that "fancie" laps have guts. We've made a big price for fooling ourselves, why keep doing it?

Good times are when women pay high-priced experts to keep their figures as neat as housework formerly did.

Hack teen people don't use their cars Saturday night. Country cars block their driveways so they can't get out.

He has little character and isn't real love if he would marry a fine girl when he knows he couldn't make a decent living for her.

Most of our young men are well-mannered, but some are not. In which case more spankings and more days of training will be necessary. Many little children spanked often and very severely don't learn this safety lesson at all. They have rushed into the street many times without getting spanked or on a car was there or enough consecutive times or days to guarantee effective learning.

Proven in this fashion to train him not to go on his bicycle, wagon or sled from the drive into the street, and train him not to go beyond a designated boundary on the premises, making sure he always gets an immediate spanking the instant he crosses the line.

Shortage of peroxide. Does this mean gentlemen will have to give up preferring blondes until after the rationing.

Sleeping like a log has its drawbacks, we read. Especially adds Zadok Dumkopf, if your roommate snores as though he's saving wood.

A post-war problem, thinks Zadok Dumkopf, may be the finding of employment for all our post-war orphans.

A Missouri farmer paid taxes on a parcel for 20 years before he discovered the property did not belong to him. Well, anyway, he got a lot of good practice.

A western university has installed a course in which cowboy dancing is taught. Sound tough on the underbelly.

Good Taste
It is a good idea to have a choice of beauty or humor.

"I wish to marry and my choice appears to be between two girls—one very beautiful, but utterly lacking in humor; the other pretty but with a strong sense of humor, every other attribute of each being about equal. Which would you advise me to choose?"

Answer: There is a little element called "love" that should be the deciding factor always, in the choice of a mate.

You seem entirely too sure that both would agree to you. Anyone with your attitude certainly needs the girl with the saving sense of humor; any man does, in fact, but your type in particular.

Only today, I saw a girl slip on the street and fall at a most embarrassing time. Most girls would have this hurt their own feelings as well as their pride, but she giggled good-naturedly and hurried away with a smile after passers-by had picked her up and brushed her off.

One of the most precious of life's gifts is the ability to appreciate the comical aspect of people and things, to find a humorless channel of escape for unpleasant situations.

The most beautiful and sweetest woman in the world without a sense of humor is like an elaborately molded wedding cake with icing layed yard high but made without sugar.

By all means, if you have your choice and all things being equal, choose the woman with a sense of humor. Life is sufficiently difficult for the person who can "laugh things off." It is sad, indeed, for the families of those who pull a long face when things go wrong.

The president's house in the White House first was taken over by the family of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933. It was then that the White House was transformed into a home.

Dramatic Class At Senior High To Present Comedy

'Youth Takes Over' To Be Staged
At School Auditorium On Friday Evening

Friday evening of this week the class in dramatics at the senior high school will produce for the public a three-act comedy, 'Youth Takes Over' by Betty Smith and Robert Fitch, able and popular authors of high school and college plays.

Darwin Herbert Sloan has been cast for the stellar role of Albert Williams, the misadventurous high school pest. A new principal arrives in the school and determines to reform the boy by heaping responsibilities on him and his boon companions. The theory is sound, but in the process of working it out a good deal happens that makes a diverting evening of entertainment for the spectators. On the stage Darwin has a completely uninhibited hour of two of high school life—a hilarious opportunity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Sloan of West Winter avenue.

Oletha M. Kirk plays opposite Darwin Sloan as "Snooky" Philip, a young person who has wits of being out of the spot when anything interesting is going on. She is the only one in the school who has a heart-heated admiration for the school apegoat. She is both a comfort and an embarrassment to Albert. Oletha Kirk has been a student in the senior high school for two years, coming here from Newark, N. J., and residing with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Kirk of Highland avenue.

(International News Service)

COUNT FOLKE BERNADOTTE, chairman of the Swedish Red Cross, described in dispatches from Stockholm as intermediary in surrender negotiations between Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler and the Allied "Big Three," reportedly so acted because of the humanitarian motives involved.

Before the war, the count was a well-known international traveler and visited the United States innumerable times. Back in the booming days of 1928, he was wedded to Estelle Manville, daughter of asbestos king H. Edward Manville, in one of the most exclusive society fiestas of that gold-plated era.

It was considered the most brilliant international match of the year, this merger between the heiress of a $25,000,000 fortune and the army officer whose uncle is King Gustav V of Sweden.

The count visited the Chicago World's Fair as official representative of the Swedish government, and served as commissioner of the Swedish exhibit at the New York World's Fair in 1939. After the war in Europe broke out, he returned to Sweden.

Friends and relatives-by-marriage in this country described the count as a handsome, jovial, endowed not only with royal blood but also a warm personality to match.

Poor Lighting On Street Raises Rate For Car Insurance

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(INS)—The American public pays for good street lighting whether or not the proper type of illumination is installed. It was maintained today by Dana W. Rowten, Westinghouse lighting engineer.

Speaking before the Philadelphia section of the Illuminating Engineering Society, Rowten pointed out that car insurance rates are higher in areas having poor public lighting than those in sections with adequate illumination.

Rowten predicted that in the postwar period American cities will have more brightly lighted streets, with a marked absence of glare. Installation of street lighting is an individual problem for each community and each street in a community, he said, adding:

"The minimum intensity for any type of street where it is desirable to prevent avoidable night accidents, is that intensity that will make night driving just as safe as day driving. Obviously, some streets will require more light than others and the standards are only limited from a viewpoint of costs."

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Secretary of Mines Richard M. Leach reported today that approximately 80 per cent of the normal coal supply will be available for civilian use this winter and urged consumers to file applications with local coal committees immediately.

"Since coal users may expect only 80 per cent of normal coal requirements for next winter, I urge them to conform to all regulations to ensure their getting their proper share," Mace stated.

Treasury Gets Black Marketeers On Tax Evasions

T-Men Find Enough To Convict 2,500 Persons, On As Much As $2,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—The treasury is poised today to strike at over 2,500 individuals and corporations whose black market and other activities have allegedly involved income and excise tax violations.

Six hundred hand-picked T-men have conducted a searching investigation, an official disclosed, "and have come up with almost more than they can handle."

The search for income tax violators will not end with the prosecution of the 2,500, the authority emphasized, but will "continue on until the treasury's drive against black marketeering has been successfully concluded."

Although the names of persons involved can not yet be disclosed, it is known that amounts up to two million dollars will be assessed from some of the violators, the official revealed.

Thousand dollar and other large denominated bills have been used by many tax evaders to conceal their true income, the treasury spokesman said. These, he revealed, have not always been as secret as their owners thought.

Smaller bills have also been stored away. One southern jewelry firm is reported to have accumulated $250,000 in $20 bills which were not reported in tax returns.

The treasury and justice departments have joined to evolve new procedures for prosecuting the tax evasion cases as expeditiously as possible, the spokesman said. The 2,500 cases are being sifted now, he explained, so that the most flagrant can be handled first.

War contractors are involved in some of the largest cases, it was disclosed.

Need For Farm Help Critical

Part Or Full-Time Workers Asked To Sign Up With Emergency Farm Labor Committee

Unless additional help is forthcoming on Lawrence county farms, a lot of farmers are going to curtail their acreage this summer, it was stated today by the emergency farm labor committee, with offices in the Y. M. C. A.

Additional demands on young men from the rural district by the military during the past winter has depleted the farm help available, and the situation is indeed critical, it is announced by the committee.

Any men or older boys who can volunteer for full or part time work on farms this spring and summer are urged to do so. More food is needed to supply the nation's diminishing larger, and those who volunteer will be contributing a patriotic service as valuable as enlistment in the armed forces.

Those who can give full or part time to this effort are asked to register at the office in the Y. M. C. A. or to call 6982.

Deny Reports Of Message Exchange By Big Three

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—President Truman today denied knowledge of any recent exchanges of messages between President Truman, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Reports from the United Nations conference at San Francisco variably have stated that messages have been exchanged by the "big three" on a number of subjects, particularly on the question of seating the Russian-sponsored Polish government of Lublin.

"I have no knowledge of any such exchange and I don't see how anybody writing about such an exchange could have any such information," Secretary Daniels said.

Gen. DeGaulle Sees Imminent End Of War Of Nazis

It was announced in the Australian house of representatives today that Australian troops are now in action against the Japanese on Borneo. This is the first allied confirmation of a Japanese report that allied forces landed last night on the east coast of Borneo, around the Tarakan area.

the immediate future, closing to the Tiergarten and scooping up all the official buildings west of it.

Russian troops, using street fighting tactics they learned at Stalingrad, fought over the house-tops and stormed cellar after cellar. German transport planes tried to break through to parachute supplies to the defenders, but only a few were successful.

Red army tanks and artillery opened a terrific attack on Hitler's underground fortress in the Tiergarten, Berlin's central park.

Drive in Baltic Area

North of the capital the Second White Russian army rolled westward along an 80-mile front in a drive against Nazi Baltic positions. These forces reached points within 40 miles of Rostock.

Earlier the Russians raised the Soviet flag over Hitler's home ministry and the Reichstag.

Battering ram Soviet forces captured 200 more city blocks, bringing to 377 the total overrun in two days of bitter fighting.

German troops launched desperate but futile attacks to regain their lost territory even while the German radio was broadcasting tacit admissions that the battle for Berlin was virtually lost.

More than 9,000 Nazis in the capital surrendered in the past 24 hours while southeast of the city more than 5,000 German officers and men were killed trying to force their way out of a trap west of the Wendisch Bucholz area.

West of Stettin

Farther north the Second White Russian army developed its offensive west of Stettin, storming through northwestern Pomerania and eastern Mecklenburg along a 60-mile front for gains of up to 19 miles.

The Russian drive through Mecklenburg presages an early junction with the British Second army now fighting in the lower Elbe area. Such a junction will close off Schleswig-Holstein and slam the door on all Nazis remaining in Denmark.

The Soviet Fourth Ukrainian army driving southward through Czechoslovakia toward a junction with the Second Ukrainian army, crossed the Odra river and climaxed weeks of heavy fighting with the capture of Moravskia Ostrava.

Inside Berlin the German civilian population was reported by Moscow to be suffering heavily from Nazi artillery fire which was directed throughout last night and early today against crossroads and buildings.

The Soviets completed the clearing of the Berlin district of Moabit and forced a crossing of the Spree river into the eastern part of the Tiergarten where the battle for Nazi underground headquarters is in progress.

The Reichstag was taken in a twin stab from the north and west after Red infantrymen had given the Germans back of the building in savage hand-to-hand fighting.

The Russians made new gains in the territory immediately north of Berlin, capturing Zdenek and eight other towns and villages.

CULLING HENS

When culling hens, try not to frighten them. Use a catching hook, or pick them off the roost by hand in the evening. When the entire flock must be examined, use a catching crate or a small panel, a gate or roll of wire to confine 25-30 birds in a corner. Laying hens are easily injured when they pile up or become frightened.

Army Toughens Dealings With Nazi Prisoners

Nazi Salute And Symbols Abolished; Cigarettes And Beer No Longer Permitted

WASHINGTON, May 1. (INS)—Brig. Gen. B. M. Bryan, in charge of prisoner of war camps, disclosed Monday that the War Department is making changes in the methods of dealing with German prisoners.

Testifying before the house military committee, which is investigating POW camps in the United States, Bryan said that the Nazi salute has been abolished.

He also said that camp commanders have been ordered to "eliminate" the use of the German word "Gott" (God) in the names of the prisoners.

The general emphasized, however, that the department is not going to alter the "basic standards of humane treatment."

The war department's order to the camp commanders stated that in view of the collapse of Nazism in Germany, it has been decided to make a change in the method of dealing with German prisoners.

Bryan told the committee that there are at present 337,273 Axis prisoners in the United States, of whom 305,000 are Germans, with an additional 150,000 Germans expected to arrive from Europe.

As further evidence of the new policy being applied to German prisoners in this country Bryan revealed that they no longer are permitted beer or the Cola drinks, no cigarettes except those which they roll themselves, no gum, and only candy which is not in short supply.

Bryan revealed that two days before Hitler's birthday, April 20, orders went out from the War Department not to permit any "merry-making" such as birthday celebrations, refusal to work or slow-downs.

Greater Secrecy Is Ordered For Market Probe

PITTSBURGH, May 1. (INS)—The federal grand jury, investigating western Pennsylvania's black market in meats, today moved to provide greater secrecy for its witnesses.

Assistant United States Attorney W. Wendell Stanton said grand jurors had instructed him to withhold names of witnesses from newspapermen because they thought publicity might make some reluctant to testify. With only a few exceptions witnesses have furnished reporters their names on request before entering the grand jury room to testify.

Nine witnesses, making a total of 37, appeared before the jurors Monday. Originally an approximate 160 subpoenas were issued.

Release 110,000 Prisoners Of War

Celebrations Among Liberated At Moosburg Gigantic Prisoner Of War Camp

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)
MOOSBURG PRISONER OF WAR CAMP, May 1.—There has been a cavalcade of the United Nations and "V-E" Day celebrations at Stalag 3-A going on for the last 48 hours at this gigantic prisoner of war camp where 110,000 prisoners have been liberated.

Some 30,000 of them were freed by the U.S. 14th Armored Division and the remaining 80,000 rapidly overcame their masters and were free after four years of servitude.

A walk down the main street of this barbed wire city is the emotional experience of a lifetime. The Stars and Stripes flies over the sector of the camp housing 14,891 American prisoners from every campaign of the European war.

In addition there are 8,965 British, French, 2,208 Russians, including 27 high-ranking officers. Nearly all of the United Nations are represented either from their own country or in the American ranks.

The camps proudest and smallest group was of four Norwegians. With the liberation of American prisoners from Moosburg it is believed that the only sizeable group of Yanks left in German hands are those at Luckenwalde, Stalag 3-A, southeast of Berlin.

The entire area around Moosburg is one giant prisoner of war camp and every village has at least a thousand prisoners working in shops and farms, freeing German men, women and children to fight for Hitler.

Some Strikes In Coal Mine Areas Despite Contract

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—Scattered strikes hit western Pennsylvania's bituminous coal field despite orders from John L. Lewis to maintain operations. In notifying miners that the United Mine Workers' new contract with increased wages became effective today.

More than 3,600 miners refused to enter the pits of at least 10 mines, claiming their UMW locals failed to receive official notice that the contract was approved, the solid fuel administration district office in Pittsburgh reported.

Midnight had marked the expiration of the 30-day contract extension granted by the UMW negotiations and government approval of a new agreement. While the War Labor Board already had approved the wage adjustments, the Office of Prices Stabilization approval of coal price increases was necessary before the contract could become effective. It was not announced until yesterday.

Teachers Of City Hear Arithmetic Teaching Methods

Modern methods of teaching arithmetic, methods that give life and interest to the subject were discussed Monday afternoon, April 30, in the senior high school when Dr. William A. Brownell of Duke University spoke to the teachers of the public schools.

"Arithmetic was originally taught as a means of mental discipline," said Dr. Brownell, "then it was taught as a drill in which the student learned a lot of rules which he promptly forgot when he went out into the world. Today we believe that arithmetic is a science that is a part of everyday life, something that the student will need in his workaday world and so we try to teach in a manner that gives the student a reason for wanting to learn it."

Many questions were asked of Dr. Brownell. Today and tomorrow he will visit class rooms, counsel with teachers and help them in whatever manner they wish.

Jap Officer Weds After Surrender

Mormon Minister Performs Ceremony With Red Cross Nurse As Bridesmaid

TWENTY-FOURTH ARMY CORPS HEADQUARTERS, Okinawa, April 30.—(Delayed)—(INS)—In the first reported incident of its kind, a Japanese army lieutenant who surrendered to save his sweetheart was united in marriage today to an attractive Okinawan girl.

The civil ceremony was performed by an American Army officer, an ordained minister of the Mormon faith.

In a grove of pine trees on this island, which still is the scene of bitter battle, Lieut. Col. Reuben E. Curtis of Salt Lake City, Utah, performed the ceremony. A member of the American Army transferred for the couple, while Staff Sgt. Clifford Langstaff of Pasadena, Calif., played Mendelssohn's wedding march on an accordion.

The couple—a Jap officer, attired in a neat brown uniform, and the pigtailed bride who wore a blue, ground-length kimono, colorful sash, red clogs and green hair ribbons—stood beneath a Shinto arch construction of crude pine logs.

Bridesmaid for the occasion was Doris Ishikawa of Maui, Hawaii, who was caught by the war while on a visit with an uncle. She is a nurse and was wearing a white cap with a red cross.

Several hundred persons, including high American Army commanders, watched the ceremony.

Hard Coal Miners Are Out On Strike

Operators Blame Strike Of 72,000 Miners On U.M.W. President John L. Lewis

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS)—Walkout of 72,000 members of the United Mine workers was blamed today on U.M.W. President John L. Lewis by anthracite mine operators.

"Mr. Lewis in characteristic fashion has attempted to shift the blame for the hard coal strike from union officials, where it belongs, to operators," declared Maj. W. W. Inglis, chairman of the anthracite operators negotiating committee.

The operators offered to extend the existing contract for 30 days on a retroactive basis. The union officials refused. They refused also Labor Secretary Frances Perkins' suggestion that the dispute be submitted for arbitration.

The union, Inglis said, also refused a proposal by Secretary Perkins, which would result in house heating rates of anthracite being increased a dollar a ton.

'Mother Of Year' Is At Conference In San Francisco

Mrs. Harper Sibley, 'American Mother' For 1945, Observer For Religion

By JANE COCHRAN
(L.N. Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Statemen, world diplomats, propagandists of almost all the world's political creeds gathered in San Francisco for the UNCTO conference have found a new representative in their midst—the 'American mother' of 1945.

Gracious, soft-voiced Mrs. Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., who has been attending the Golden Gate conference as an accredited observer for women's religious groups, was announced as the annual Golden Rule Foundation's 'American mother' of the year.

Mrs. Sibley, wife of the former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who is also attending the conference as a consultant representing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, termed the announcement a great surprise... and quite wonderful.

She is pleased over the spirit of the conference and confident of its success, and women's role in it.

"This conference has demonstrated the fact that women are being given a new share in planning world affairs," she said. "I think the prejudice against women in this respect will change, now that women have shown their extraordinary capacities in services performed during this war."

Mrs. Sibley is the mother of six children. The oldest, Hiram, 36, is UNRRA director in Greece and the youngest, Harper, Jr., not yet 18, is graduating this year from Groton school in Connecticut, where he is the late president. Between the two are four daughters, all married. The Sibleys have 13 grandchildren.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Investing

Postwar Prospects Are Discussed By Member Of New York Investment Firm At Weekly Luncheon

Rotary club members heard an interesting talk on the post-war financial outlook for the United States at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday, when Carl Stolle, member of a New York investment house, spoke on investments.

Mr. Stolle stated that most everyone is concerned about the best prospects of investing his surplus funds with a reasonable rate of return and with a fair amount of security.

He stated that he did not feel that there would be the same conditions after this war as there was following World War I, because no industries have a high inventory, nor large orders ahead, nor have invested heavily in machinery which will be useless after the war. Most of this which has been needed by the government is in their hands.

When a change over is made to the manufacture of consumer goods, he expressed the opinion that there would be enough orders on hand to keep industry busy for four or five years. Much machinery would have to be sold.

In regard to investments, he advised taking counsel from a reliable investment firm, and to look into the background of the companies involved, and their future prospects. He urged investors not to follow the crowd, because they are generally wrong. He also stated that many unutilized securities are as good and often better than listed securities.

There is no formula for solving the investment problem, he said in conclusion, and good sound judgment and alertness is necessary. Guests from the service included Lt. (jg) Harvey Lewis, U. S. navy, of 1020 South Mill street, who is home on leave, and Sgt. Thomas Daley of Philadelphia, stationed at Deshon annex, who was wounded in Germany while serving with the 95th division, and Pvt. Floyd Knapp of Corning, N. Y., also stationed at Deshon annex who is recovering from the effects of a broken leg sustained at Camp Reynolds.

Senator Asks Others To Join Surrender Ultimatum To Japan

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., has called on 46 United Nations to join at San Francisco in an unconditional surrender ultimatum to Japan.

"The United States and a few other nations should no longer be expected to carry the full burden against Japan," Capehart declared in a senate speech.

"Right now in San Francisco the 46 United Nations are forming plans to join together in suppressing any aggressor nation. What a wonderful thing it would be if these 46 nations now would issue an ultimatum to Japan that unless she surrenders unconditionally within a certain period of time, all of these 46 nations would agree to declare war on Japan and help in some measure in furnishing men and the materials."

Ministers Oppose Proposed Measures

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Ministerial union was on record today as unanimously opposed to two bills pending before the state legislature. The bills provide for lengthening horse racing and Sunday ice hockey.

The ministers unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the two measures. Rev. Dr. Robert M. Blackwood, secretary of the Sabbath Association of Western Pennsylvania, who presented the resolution, declared the bills would interfere with youth religious training and contribute to juvenile delinquency.

In round figures, there are five million dollars on deposit in various banks of the United States, unclaimed.

Wheels on smooth steel rails roll heavy loads with minimum effort. Scores of cars are pulled by a single unit of motive power.

Vast networks of track—398,730 miles of it owned and maintained by the railroads—crisscross every one of the 48 States before.

Pirates Need Warmer Weather To Get Going

Cold Weather Not To Liking Of Pirates Who Now Rest Near Basement

OSTERMUELLER ZAK SLATED FOR ARMY

By BOB BUTLER
(International News Service Staff Writer)

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—Originals and stills of the St. Louis Cardinals for National League supremacy the Pittsburgh Pirates nevertheless today rested in the league basement.

Of course it should also go on the record that the St. Louis outfit is not on top of the heap at this date in the early season play—they are in the first division however.

Regarding the Steel City's Blue-Caniers, the boys in the know blame it all on the weather. Those fellows, the ones who eat most of the peanuts at Forbes field, are saying the old men who make up the Pirates' club just can't coordinate until the temperature climbs.

Too Early Yet

Then, of course, there are those who claim "it doesn't mean a thing" this early in the season. The Pirates management falls in this category. They point to the Boston Red Sox in the other league to back up their statement. Also pre-seasoned as a hot club, the back bay boys hadn't won a game in their first eight starts.

The fans and sports' writers have so far described the Bucs' exhibitions as "bush league". Hitting hasn't been so good and errors have proved costly to the Pirates in the early season play.

Also things are likely to get worse. The know-it-alls are saying, before they get better. Pitcher Fred Ostermuller has received an invitation from Uncle Sam which he can't very well escape accepting. Frank Zak is also slated for possible early induction. Of course, it should be said that Osty has only just joined the club in the Chicago series and Zak is only hitting around .209 as this is written.

It probably is too early to "ring with alarm" but Frankie Frisch's club was supposed to go along with the Bruins in challenging the Cardinals but the Chicago series didn't improve the Bucs' chances—at least in the minds of their fans.

Penn State and Army have played football three times, with the Lions triumphant once, and the other two games stalemated.

Penn State and Michigan State have broken even in two football games. They will meet for the third time next fall.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, May 1.—Some of our most astute observers of the baseball scene are convinced that they watched the beginning of stardom for a Washington pitcher here in Yankee stadium.

Pitchers don't come much smaller than Marino Pieretti, and they don't come any gamer. They don't come much better either. All this 23-year-old right-hander needs is major league experience. He looks like the find of the year. He's made a hit with the customers and with the baseball players as well.

When on Saturday afternoon he tossed 13 innings against the Yankees a couple of Washington veterans greeted him as he came off the hill and slapped him on the back. Some of the fans clutched his hands. The story would be much better if he had won the game. He lost it finally by 2 to 1, but in the meantime had gone the route where Ernie Bonham had failed for the Yankees and he lost the decision to the veteran Jim Turner who finished for the winners.

Wilson Takes Up New Position As Conference Head

Former Athletic Director At Northwestern Succeeds Late Major Griffith

CHICAGO, May 1.—(INS)—Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern university for the last 20 years, took over today his new duties as athletic commissioner of the Western Conference, succeeding the late Maj. John L. Griffith.

At the same time Ted Payson, long identified with athletics at Northwestern, assumed Wilson's job there.

Wilson was appointed commissioner last March 10 for a period of six years at a reported annual salary of $15,000.

Must Expand Program
The 49-year-old executive said the chief problem confronting the Big Ten and the collegiate world in general was the expansion of the athletic program to a point where all students may participate.

Wilson envisioned more dual track meets, an expansion of football programs with 150-pound teams and B teams with regular schedules more intramural football, an increase in swimming, softball, tennis and golf competition, and even in wrestling.

He thought the day was not far distant when most of the conference schools would be playing hockey.

CHURCH GOLFERS START THURSDAY

Ten Churches Have Teams In 1945 Church Golf League At Castle Hills

New Castle Church league golfers will start the 1945 season at the Castle Hills golf course Thursday evening at six o'clock. Morgan Jones, Sr., president of the league, is satisfied that the league faces a great season.

There are 10 teams in the league this year, two more than last season. Second U. P. and St. Paul's Lutheran having been accepted into the circles.

Course in Shape
Highland will be the defending champions this year, having nudged the First Presbyterians in the play-off last fall. The Castle Hills course has been put in excellent shape for the opening of the league. The greens have all been cut and the fairways rolled and cut.

Following is the first night schedule in the league as announced today by Secretary Karl Roeder:

First U. P. vs. Highland U. P.
First Presbyterians vs. First Baptist.

St. Paul's Lutheran vs. Second U. P.
Harbor U. P. vs. Mahoning Churches.

Epworth vs. First Christians.

Six-Team County League Is Sought

An effort to revive the Lawrence County Baseball league will be made Friday night at eight o'clock at the Sporting Goods store. All managers of all teams in the county are invited to attend.

The meeting will be conducted by Dominic Mondo and Ferrante, of Ellwood City, veterans of the old County league and boosters for baseball. It appears that three teams will take out franchises immediately in the league. Ellwood City, West Pittsburg and Ellensburg.

An effort is being made to interest baseball men in Volant, Bessemer, New Wilmington and Hillsville in the league. Any team in the city here that is interested may also attend the session Friday.

Baksi And Lane Fight Wednesday

CHICAGO, May 1.—(INS)—Joe Baksi, ex-coal miner from Kulpmont, Pa., was rated a 9 to 5 favorite today for his bout tomorrow night at the Chicago stadium with Larry Lane, Trenton, N. J., heavyweight.

The fighters wound up their training yesterday for the 10-round bout. Promoter Jack Kearns thought the event and the supporting card might draw around 10,000 customers and a gross gate of $30,000.

LOCKEYS CHANGE FIELDS
The Lockey Machine Shop softball team has been granted permission to use Marshall field as their home field and will work out every night (weather permitting) at Marshall field instead of Dean Park field. It was announced today by Business Manager Joe McCaskey.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

STATUS OF OUTBOARD

I've noticed that during the past few weeks ads offering used outboard motors for sale at a wide range of prices, usually high, are appearing in increasing numbers. The reason is obvious. With the war in Europe nearing an end owners of those old motors are trying to unload them on a seller's market, with the idea that production will be resumed shortly and brand new ones can be bought at approximately the quotations for which the old ones are selling now. V-E day may have come and gone by the time this appears in print, but it's my guess that few new outboards will be available in the very near future.

There'll be a "lag," as a leading manufacturer states, between the lifting of restrictions and deliveries. Its length depending upon a number of factors, including availability of materials, continued military demands, and time needed for conversion of machinery.

The lapse, in the case of outboards, shouldn't be nearly as long as that involving many other products, since no complex conversion problems are presented. However, if you're thinking of disposing of your old outboard with the intention of buying a new one within the next week or so, or are contemplating the purchase of a used "kicker" better give the subject a little thought before taking the plunge.

It's A Gamble
Buying a used outboard is considerable of a gamble unless you're an expert or have your prospective purchase examined and tested by someone who knows all about them. Take a lot of other fishermen and duck hunters. I've operated a number of kinds of outboards over a considerable mileage of water, but being no mechanical genius wouldn't trust my own judgment in acquiring a used motor. I'd much rather purchase a new one, if possible, of standard make, secure in the knowledge that the factory would stand behind it. However, there are a lot of old outboards around whose performance will belie their somewhat battered appearance. The point is beauty, or ugliness, may be only skin deep.

If you already own an outboard it's a good idea to have it gone over by a specialist before putting it into service after a winter's idleness. In any event, even an amateur can wash out the gas tank, examine, park plus, and in a pinch dismantle the entire motor for cleaning, if he's very, very careful to remember how to reassemble the parts and doesn't misplace any of them.

Harris-Shank Are Re-Matched

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—A return match between Ossie Bullock, Harris and Coxsway Shank will feature the outdoor opening of Pittsburgh's boxing season at Forbes Field May 15.

Announcement that the match had been scheduled was made by Jake Mintz for the Rooney-McGinley club.

Harris won the first bout between the two after they both slugged it out for eight rounds. Shank, who had a year's layoff, lost up in the last two frames of a 10-round fight to give Harris a split decision.

Demands Return Of Box Cars To West; Relieving Shortage

Claims Eastern Railroads Are Tying Up Badly Needed Freight Cars

By FRANK E. ALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A Kansas City business spokesman demanded Monday that some Washington agency compel eastern railroads to return box cars owned by lines of the grain belt.

Walter Scott, transportation commissioner of the Kansas City Board of Trade, told the Senate Interstate Commerce committee that eastern railroads are ignoring the Railroad Association's rules by retaining western cars that are unloaded on their lines.

Scott declared that with the huge grain crops of last year, with 140,000 fewer cars sent to move it, and the need for moving flour and other grain products, the "backlog" of box cars needed in the West is about a half million.

Spilling on Ground

He testified as grain belt senators pressed their demand for further increases of box cars to remove the remainder of last year's bumper crops, some of which, they charge, is spoiling on the ground.

He explained that railroads have an agreement to return one another's cars and said there is a "penalty" of $1.15 a day for each car kept. But the "penalty," he said, is ineffective now because the railroads can make many times that amount of profit from a car.

Scott said that Congress has given the Interstate Commerce power to order cars returned.

"They have the power, but they don't see fit to exercise it," he added. "If the railroads would do it themselves some agency in Washington should make them do it."

The Boston and Maine railroad, he said, is using box cars amounting to 269 per cent of what it owns, while the Great Northern, in the wheat area, has only 39.3 per cent of its car ownership available.

Grandpappy Jenkins says he has a formerly very fat friend who worried so about the rubber shortage he lost his other spare tire—the one around his waist.

TOO MUCH RUBBER FOLLOWING WAR IS PREDICTION MADE

AKRON, O., May 1.—(INS)—A problem of "too much rubber" will arise within three years after the war's end, P. W. Litchfield, chairman of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, predicted Monday.

He made the statement, the first of its kind to come from a leader in the business, in a bulletin of the series, "Notes on America's Rubber Industry."

Litchfield stated that the problem would not become acute until after the liberation of the Malayan and East Indian rubber growing areas, but added that "the British and Dutch, who will regain control of these areas, are giving this impending problem of surplus very earnest consideration."

Synthetic rubber, a war "must," plus an even proportion of natural rubber, produces tires equal to any made solely from natural material, he explained, adding that America's control of the synthetic field puts this country in a strong bargaining position with reference to the world situation.

Dumbarton Oaks--What And Where? Question Asked

Since the opening of the United Nations conference at San Francisco to formulate a charter for a world organization based on the proposals drawn up at Dumbarton Oaks, Miss Rose Barber, reference librarian of the public library, has been deluged with inquiries about Dumbarton Oaks itself, what and where it is.

To those who are in doubt about its location or who have some idea that it is (a) a tree, (b) in Massachusetts, or (c) in Canada, she gives information on Dumbarton Oaks in effect as given below.

It is an estate located at 3101 R street, N. W., near the naval observatory grounds in Washington, D. C., which was until 1940 the home of Robert Woods Bliss, former minister to Sweden and ambassador to Argentina. In that year Mr. and Mrs. Bliss gave the house and 16 acres of surrounding grounds to Harvard university and turned 27 acres over to the government to be developed into Dumbarton Oaks park. The Bliss family retained a small tract of the property.

The estate was originally part of a royal Rock of Dumbarton grant to Ninian Beall. The house was built about 1800.

Cpl. Leichtenberger Is Honored For Heroism

(Special to The News)

WITH THE EIGHTH "GOLDEN ARROW" INFANTRY DIVISION, East of the Rhine—Cpl. Leoy D. Leichtenberger, husband of Mrs. Katherine Leichtenberger, 222 Pearson street, New Castle, Pa., has received the silver star medal for his gallantry in removing two wounded men to cover under direct machine gun fire in Germany.

The assault boat of which Cpl. Leichtenberger was a member was carried downstream by the strong current and came to shore directly opposite a German machine gun which opened fire. Leaving the cover which he had found for himself, the corporal returned to the boat and removed a wounded man to safety. Later he exposed himself again to grazing machine gun fire to aid in carrying another wounded man to medical aid. His gallant actions and great courage were in accordance with the highest traditions of military service," the citation concluded.

Approximately 165,000 people in the United States were victims of cancer in 1944.

Old-Age Insurance Confused With That For Jobless Worker

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(INS)—Questions being asked at the Philadelphia custom house prompted officials today to straighten out apparent misunderstandings of old-age and survivors insurance and unemployment insurance.

Errors arise, said Joseph J. Skorp, Jr., field manager of the Social Security Board, because both insurances are part of the state family security program promoting the name Florence led almost all the rest. As an indication of the cycles, Ruth was most common in 1900, fell to ninth place in 1905 and rose to fifth place in 1910.

Each, however, is a distinct program. Skorp added, "State unemployment insurance is to protect workers against loss of income because of unemployment while federal old-age and survivors insurance is to protect the worker and his family against loss of income due to old age or death of the worker."

People are guided by many influences in choosing names. After World War I Jean, was most popular, but she turns up now as Jeanne. When Florence Nightingale was receiving a great deal of publicity, the name Florence led almost all the rest. As an indication of the cycles, Ruth was most common in 1900, fell to ninth place in 1905 and rose to fifth place in 1910.

That war the Turks are supposed to be waging against the Axis is not why a last-minute affair but also seems to be a perfectly invisible one.
